

President FAQ

---

What is the ASB President?

The ASB President is the leader of the ASB Council and the official student spokesman for The Master's University. It is his responsibility to efficiently and effectively direct the administration of the ASB Council to produce a wide variety of activities and services that make TMU an exciting, challenging, and fun place to be.

How do I know if being the President is right for me?

The ASB President is a creative servant-leader who is able to motivate and manage a committee of student leaders to execute the details of a common goal.

The President should aspire to be:

1. Gifted administratively.
2. Motivated by a servant's heart.
3. Characterized by a teachable spirit.
4. A proactive leader.
5. A creative visionary and problem solver.
6. Committed to authentic relationships with those on his council.
7. Seeking a life characterized by biblical principles to the glory of God.

The ASB President does not fit into one kind of mold. Many different kinds of people and personalities have had an excellent administration. The aforementioned characteristics are listed as a guidepost to help you identify if the opportunity of President is right for you.

What are the ASB President's responsibilities to the campus?

All of the ASB President's responsibilities are mentioned in the ASB Constitution and By-Laws (on reserve in the Powell Library). It is important to note that the ASB President has traditional responsibilities, but has the freedom to implement new and improved ideas as a part of his administration.
