Congratulations! If you’ve completed pre-registration and submitted your $200 tuition deposit, you’re ready to enroll in classes for the Spring 2015 semester! These instructions explain how to schedule an advising appointment, the means by which you’ll choose your Spring 2015 courses. You’ll schedule your appointment on our “Self-Service” portal: www.masters.edu/selfservice. If you have difficulty accessing your Self-Service account, please contact the Office of Admissions at (800) 568-6248.

Don’t worry—you’re not on your own to figure out what courses you need to take next semester. To keep things simple, you’ll be placed in classes based on your intended major. Within each major we’ve identified a suggested course curriculum to help determine class placement. During your advising appointment you’ll be able to review your schedule to ensure that classes and times are in sync with other commitments you expect to have.

Follow the instructions below to select a time for your advising appointment. Appointments for new and transfer students begin on Monday, November 17, 2014.

1. Log into Self-Service using your username and password (www.masters.edu/selfservice)
2. Click on “Advising Appointments” in the left hand menu (see screen shot on page 2)
3. A calendar will appear with available appointment times. Select a date, time, and method (telephone or in-person) that works best for you. An email will confirm your scheduled advising appointment.
4. If your advising appointment is by phone, it is your responsibility to call at the time of your appointment. Our phone number is 800-568-6248.

NOTE: Pre-Registration MUST be completed and the “Confirmation” page along with your $200 tuition deposit must be received in the Office of Student Accounts BEFORE you talk with your academic advisor.

Please don’t hesitate to contact us, if you have any questions.
